

A sense of shared purpose and community is a key ingredient of educational excellence.

learning community & parental engagement

Everyone at St. Agnes School works together to create a supportive atmosphere that promotes learning. Students are encouraged to help each other—individually or in groups—fostering leadership skills, cooperation, and responsibility. Our “open door” policy welcomes feedback from parents, because we want to share ideas about how to make your child’s experience the very best that it can be.

ST. AGNES SCHOOL: EDUCATION WITH HEART AND SOUL

In addition to providing strong academic education, we also help students develop character and life skills. Character learning does not come from a book, but from regular practice in a variety of real-life situations.

FOCUSING ON THE WHOLE CHILD

School today is about more than memorizing spelling words. Students at all levels must know how to think, ask questions, do research, work together, and solve problems. The elementary education years can set the stage for a lifetime of learning and success. At St. Agnes School, we provide solid academic instruction in a nurturing environment that helps children develop core skills and behaviors that will prepare them for the wonderful journey of life.

TEACHING A COMPREHENSIVE CURRICULUM

The St. Agnes curriculum is built on a foundation of research-based and developmentally sequenced programs that address grade-level learning objectives and achievement standards. Core components include math, reading/language arts, science, and social studies programs created by respected educational publishers. Students in Grades K-6 also enjoy Spanish lessons, providing a head start for foreign language studies in higher grades.

St. Agnes offers a complete range of resources, services, and activities to help maximize children's learning:

- developmentally appropriate pre-k program
- sequenced math, reading and science
- K-6 Spanish lessons
- computers in every classroom
- media center/technology program
- updated reference library
- vocal and instrumental music
- community service projects
- physical ed and interscholastic athletics
- after school and summer programs

EXCEEDING PROFICIENCY STANDARDS

A common concern among parents and teachers nationwide is the growing focus on proficiency exams and schools that merely "teach to the test." We recognize the value of academic proficiency standards in preparing children for higher learning and the world of work. While state educational standards do guide our mission, St. Agnes teachers look beyond the limited scope of formal testing to emphasize exploratory learning, individualized instruction, and a more well-rounded curriculum.
